

Benjamin Cohen, Swiss national, is Head of NF Governance & Legal Affairs at the International Basketball Federation (FIBA). He is a member of the Legal Advisory Group for the Association of International Summer Olympic Federations (ASOIF) and a member of the International Olympic Committee (IOC) Expert Group for Betting and Match-fixing legislation.

In 2011, Benjamin was elected as President of the Legal Commission for the International League against Racism (Switzerland).

Benjamin previously worked for the United Nations Office of Sport for Development and Peace (New York, USA), the Union of European Football Associations, UEFA (Nyon, Switzerland) and the Sports Division of the Council of Europe (Strasbourg, France).

Benjamin holds a Bachelor of Law from University of Fribourg (Switzerland) and a Master of Law in International Contract Law from University of Fribourg and University of Durham (England). He specialized in Sports law, mediation and arbitration and further completed a Master of Advanced Studies in Sport Management and Technology at the Ecole Polytechnique Fédérale de Lausanne (EPFL Lausanne, Switzerland).

Benjamin regularly intervenes as a speaker for various sports-related university programs worldwide. He is currently completing his PhD in Law (Doctorate Thesis) on the Governance of International Sports Federations at the University of Zurich, Switzerland.
